Chief Engineer's Report

TO THE SELECTMEN OF PETERBOROUGH, N. H.:

Gentlemen:

As Chief of the Fire Department I wish to submit the following report for the year 1931.

The year past we have had a number of fires in our midst and while they were bad when we check up and compare notes, they all might have been a great deal worse.

I would call attention of property owners and store proprietors in allowing rubbish and litter to accumulate in and around the store or buildings. Make an extra trip to the town dump, especially in the holiday season, when the rubbish collects more rapidly.

Once a year the Federal Government and most of the states of the country have Fire Prevention Week. We think it is best to make every week, as well as every day, a Fire Prevention one, and in this way, the people will realize that it is up to them, to help keep the enormous loss by fire down.

During the year we placed a hose reel and two fire hose nozzles at the disposal of the A. W. Noone Co., at South Peterborough, to be used with their fire hose. This will help in case of emergency.

The equipment of the department is the same as last year with the addition of 1000 feet of 2½-in. fire hose; and 200 feet of ¾-inch garden hose. This gives No. 1 and No. 2 companies 100 feet each of garden hose. This gives the department 3500 feet of 2½-inch fire hose and 1200 feet of smaller hose on the Forest Fire truck.

The department responded to 55 alarms or calls for help: 16 gong alarms and 39 still or telephone calls. This included two calls for outside help, which we are always glad to render, when the "home fires" are not neglected.

As Forest Fire Warden, we have been fortunate in that the weather was very favorable and the condition of a lot of the roadside has been improved, by cleaning up the underbrush and dead wood and leaves.

During the year I issued 15 written fire permits to burn brush and 128 for garden and rubbish fires.

I wish to thank the people for co-operating in this part of our program for better fire prevention.

There are so many unoccupied residences and camps that it saves a lot of time to know in what direction to look for smoke, when some one puts in a call, if you will get your permit first.

We wish to thank the men who take hold and help the firemen at such fires that we have had during the year; also the operators at the telephone exchange, at such times.

Respectfully submitted,

TIMOTHY E. DRISCOLL

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE PETERBOROUGH SCHOOL BOARD:

A wealth of educational and financial data is at your hand, dealing with the local public school system. In view of this material, which supports the five year survey, supervision desires, in this report, to comment on present policies or those which, in its belief, are essential.

Education cannot fit the rising generation for life today or tomorrow if its eyes are on the past, or its ear to the ground.

Without passing beyond the view of the average citizen, into pink clouds of self esteem, it can inquire of historians, authoritative sources in the business and economic fields of human endeavor, from statesmen, from scientists, what the goal is for which they are working, and then mind its own business by the aid of trained observers and authoritative reporters of how such goals are best arrived at. Education presupposes intelligent leadership, but it cannot listen to every guide or it wanders in circles and the children are lost.

The tax payer establishes the standard of his schools. One cannot make mahogany furniture out of pine laths: if you butter your bread too thinly there is neither flavor nor value.

Superior technique may, and must by its nature, spread a dollar farther than will dull thinking.

The average citizen attempts to deal squarely with facts at his command, and with the public servants he employs. The average citizen also has faith in children and desires that his own, and his neighbors' children, shall be better trained for their generation than he and his neighbor were for their own.

A complete survey was given to the School Board, covering a five year period, in which complete educational and financial data were offered. The Board has at its disposal every modern means for information as to the results of the policies of supervision and can make its own decisions. The financial record is one of achievement of the present status of the Public School System in Peterborough at a less than average per pupil cost, over a six year period, using any method of computation which any financial or civic body may choose.

The costs for actual instruction are still low. Were it not for the remedial program, with its constant and unremitting study of the individual pupil, it would be absurd to expect what the courtesy of the Board has placed on record as better than average results, at less than average cost.

The tax payer, and not the schools nor the Board, determines what the children shall have with which to meet the problems of the next sixty years. The tax payer, through education of children for future needs, will provide the opportunity for success in middle age of the children of now, and assure to himself an easier life if he himself shall reach the three score and ten mark. There is no advance save as each generation of children treats those who are on the downhill slope, better than that group did treat those self-same children. Nor is there safety for the future unless the present is cared for today, better than it was yesterday.

The lengthy survey of the previous year is this year shortened to a reporting of actual accomplishments, and comparative financial data.

It may be the pleasure of the Board to translate the data into favorable or unfavorable comment. Supervision desires to call attention to (3) major items.

A. During the past five years, 27 of the 36 objectives set up in the first survey (1926) as objectives for supervision, have been accomplished. We doubt that these could have been even remotely approached, save at prohibitive cost, without the remedial program. Moreover, it is evident that this remedial program, which was in danger of being rejected by many who did not understand it, has become the chief stone of low cost, efficient education, not only in Peterborough, but largely throughout New Hampshire. That which could have been known as The Peterborough Plan, is at least now Peterborough's established technique: there is only faint supposition that a technique now established as a pre-requisite for assurance of progress, and for liaison with post-secondary institutions, will be thrown willingly aside.

It is worthy of note that since this diagnostic, remedial and guidance program was put into effect, there have been many conspicuous successes in the records of graduates of Peterborough High School. And for five years there has been no case of failure in post-secondary institutions, where these institutions did not, in every item, agree with the prophecy made by Peterborough Public School System.

It is folly to hope to succeed in major-league baseball with the equipment and rules for playing One 'Ole Cat; although baseball may have evolved from the latter sport.

B. An organization of teachers has been evolved, wherein a superior degree of professional merit, of understanding of modern teaching technique and pupil requirements, is accompanied by a minimum of internal friction. Where weaknesses are shown up by the continual survey of the teaching, they are professionally corrected under the plans of supervision, through the principals as remedial workers.

The number of parents who, although perhaps not understanding the plan, nevertheless see its benefits, is constantly increasing. These know that the duty of supervision is not to act as a continuance of normal school education for which their taxes were expended in the training of teachers, but to evolve and maintain some system by which each child is dispassionately watched over, without fear or favor, and adequate remedial method supplied where the child is in need of it, while he is left alone if normally progressing.

The duty of supervision is to improve the chances of the child, not of the teacher; save by showing the teacher where his or her own methods fail to accomplish cure or growth for a child.

Shot gun methods of prescribing have long since passed out of the profession of medicine. Not all sick people need liver pills. Nor do the old ideals of supervision, which were nothing but questionable improvements over the inspection of Prudential Committees, at all fit the present demand that each child shall receive at least as much individual, professional supervision for its mental needs, as comparably, any trainer of colts has given valuable horseflesh for the last two hundred years.

It is not inspection of the stables, and of the personnel of an already trained staff, that is of greatest importance. It is knowledge of horseflesh, its sensitivity, and its responses to this or that treatment, that gives the greatest return to the owner of the colts; when this knowledge is transmitted to trainers at the first indication of trouble, and their co-operation made sure.

The Peterborough teaching staff has again and again shown itself highly professional, adopting and adapting specific remedial technique. And we believe that the least which supervision can do is to state that, whatever the present standing of the Peterborough Public School System is, that status could not have been even remotely approached had it not been for the general confidence of the staff in supervisory planning and reporting; and the truly remarkable spirit of instant co-operation.

We believe these comments are necessary, a just and gladly paid supervisory debt. That this confidence and cooperation have been given is certainly due to the belief that there is no least aspect of either trouble or good with which the system of supervision is not made acquainted, and sympathetically insists upon co-operation, or intends to comment with praise.

We hope that parents and the citizenry in general, remember this organization of teachers, and keep faith with it, as the teachers have kept faith with their children. Good fruit is not borne by poor trees. And even trees reward appreciation and protection. And the better the tree, the more responsive it is to its environment.

C. Nothing but fundamentals are offered in the Peterborough School System. It is as free from fads and frills as an apple tree is from leaves in winter. Many fundamentals, which would mean that a Peterborough child would pass by other pupils, from other systems, if the Peterborough School System could afford them, cannot, naturally, be supplied at less than average cost. For there are, of course, the pupils from other school systems, the half which invest more per pupil than does Peterborough.

If we enter into controversy over what seems to be fundamental, rather than giving to children what has been proven to be fundamentals by observance of the last forty years, as reported by those whose sole business it is to know these things, such as Chambers of Commerce, the heads of great business and financial institutions who wish to buy certain products of education in the persons of graduates, the requests of colleges for certain knowledges, the demands of business and technical institutes, we fall into as great folly as if one dressed one's children for life in New England in accordance with the ideas of those who never knew climatic conditions save at the low equatorial belt.

The fundamentals are what the State needs for the next generation. Economic pressure is bringing sharply to the attention of all citizens that there is less need for book learning, and more for thinking. Pupils are educated away from demagogues and chicanery in civic life not by books, but by training in observance, and by insistence that snap-judgments may be made in emergency only. Education to retain facts is impossible beyond the given limits of the individual pupil; and these facts are too often of the least possible value. Moreover, the majority of the facts, forced on children by traditional education, would better be left to the colleges, or to adult education. And a great many of these facts have no more bearing on developing a child to live and earn a livelihood today and tomorrow than a harness has on the actual ethics of a mule.

There are four fundamental aspects, however, of education concerning which there is no possible argument. Education in the public schools should offer fundamentals in:

1. How to be healthy, lest the tax payer spend too much money for medicine and hospitalization; and lest the future citizenry be led astray by those whose powerful minds are fundamentally warped or biased in judgment because of hereditary taints or personal ills;

2. How to arrive at judgments; to scan the printed page or listen to the orator without emotion save "where does he get his facts?" Democracy is not safe while the spinal column controls the brain. The voice of the plausible possible liar should be stilled by questions as to his authority to speak at all.

The delusion that a man who is successful in one field is therefore qualified to direct in another must be done away with. Few great generals have made great Presidents. For this reason, among many others, we the more greatly revere Washington as a man for the ages.

3. Frank acknowledgment that labor is worthy of respect; that the artisan and manual laborer are as valuable as the graduate of an old line college. To wait twenty years and then discover that thousands of dollars have been expended in the hopes of making diamonds out of rugged, honest granite, is not an evidence of thrift but a bowing to a fetish.

In the days when college graduates are in the bread line, the technical institutes which train intelligent boys and girls, for supervision of common and semi-skilled labor, are reporting that they cannot even in small fraction fill the demands of business for graduates with high intelligence quotients.

Individual pupils should receive, in adolescence, the opportunities for self expression which, if denied, cause them mentally to wilt. There is nothing sadder to the keen observer of children than this annual loss of great promise by certain children because they are pushed aside from natural education by the cold hand of tradition. Compared with this excruciatingly cold insistence that the minds of not less than 75% of our children shall be confined to uninteresting or obnoxious and meaningless factual learning, the footbinding which the Chinese formerly practised is harmless. Footbinding does not destroy the mental utility for efficient adult service to the world.

4. How to make worthy use of the time, which is not far off, when four days of six hours each will make it possible in any capacity for a man adequately to support himself and family. The safety of the state demands that the advice of authorities in the business and economic world who have been found to be well advised in conditions before and during the present era must be given careful consideration. We can produce more than we can use unless our leisure time is increased. Mankind must learn that outside stimuli do not of themselves produce happiness.

Unless the personnel of a democracy be given opportunity to enrich its life with more than the earning of bread, the hours when there is no labor will be spent in manners which add nothing to the growth of civilization. The cultural part of education has been too often neglected and where this has happened, ugliness of thought, lax personal and political ethics, and stark tragedy of crime or war, have resulted.

The seeds of a life of high thinking, of ethics which made safe a civilization which must be softer in its very nature than is barbarism, cannot be sowed save in adolescence when boys and girls are mentally reborn and the sooner the average citizen realizes that there is hunger for beauty in living, no less acute, no less insistent upon being appeased, than is the craving for food, the more quickly will he bring about safety and stability in civic institutions; for there is abhorrence at the idea of the destruction of art and if living be not an art, it has no meaning.

Specifically then, the average citizen who can think keenly will insist that the fundamentals which make possible an appreciation of the guidance and stability which is offered by the refining and cultural arts should be fundamentally considered as essential to proper education. This does not imply that we should train artists and singers to the point where they may earn a living but keen thinking most certainly argues incontrovertably that art, music, and poetry should be allowed to play upon and to mold the finer sensibilities for the same purpose that physical education is offered, that there shall be developed a sense of mental balance and poise.

The next few years promise such rapid advancement in science as to make even the last decade seem slow. The policy of the Board in strengthening this department is in accordance with national recognition of the need for training in observation, and for acquaintance with basal scientific data and phenomena. The formal courses in science are passing swiftly into the discard.

The work in Domestic Arts and Manual Training is unquestionably of the greatest educational value. It has been unfortunate that whereas in many progressive cities and towns the world over, there has been instant logical recognition of the fact that much and large machinery is unnecessary for offering exploratory courses and adolescent guidance, certain ultra-conservative states and towns have considered that the skill in craftsmanship required to make delicately adjusted models, or finely shaped small accessories of home or shop, is of less value than making mission furniture, deal tables, or bridge lamps.

For New Hampshire, it has been a happy occurrence that survey of those who are earning good incomes within a guild, coincides with a complete reversal of programs for small school systems. Training in skills, in understanding the "feel" of good design, in realizing the thrill in a personally constructed thing with beauty of line, all these motivate reading and study, give a reason to education to many who otherwise see no use in it. The day of the small project, of the interesting craft and guild objectives, has been with us for fifteen years, and a recent magazine shows 63 firms cashing it on it, for home and guild use.

This type of equipment and the projects connected with it have been used sparingly in Peterborough because of lack of funds and time. Patience and knowledge born of experience show that if a thing is correct, it will after having been combated, receive enthusiastic support. "We are all somewhat deaf to new ideas," even fifteen years after they are born.

The tax payer determines the standards of the school, the School Board controls the finances and general policies. No report to you would be complete without recognition of the implied confidence in the professional administration shown by whatever degrees of the policy of watching for results and keeping hands off the professional workers for these results, has seemed wise to you.

This is not the year for a lengthy supervisory report. Statistics are appended, as also the reports of various departments and principals. A wealth of statistical data, beyond mere essential reporting, is at your hand.

Beyond stating the policy of present supervision over broad lines, hopeful of support, and grateful for co-operation, and with the reiterated comment that the tax payers will unquestionably wish for their children not less than average opportunities in a sharply competitive world, we close this report again commending the professional spirit of the teaching staff, and the results they have secured, to your earnest consideration and fair-dealing support.

MAJOR RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Decreased expenditure for purely college preparatory divisions as there is no question but that graduates of Peterborough High School are competing, ability for ability, with those of the best high schools and preparatory schools, on equal or superior terms.

2. Continuance of a progressive program in science and nature, from grades one through twelve, diverting for this purpose money from books which tell about things the children should actually see, discuss, and in writing describe.

3. Support of the development of motivated handwork in Domestic Arts and Manual Training for adolescent grades.

4. Visual education; developed at far less expense for unit knowledge secured, than by formal text book courses.

5. In MacDowell's home-town, adequate support of the music department to include appreciation.

6. These economies, being educational as well as thrifty, to become by development a program to include two years.

NOTES ON REPORTS FROM PRINCIPALS AND DEPARTMENTAL HEADS

(A) The scholarly report of Headmaster Whitney calls attention to the continuance of the high standards reported to the Board in the previous year; and supports the superintendent in his belief that now is the time when the Board can well consider expending less for the College Preparatory sections and more for the greater percentage which does not hope or desire to take up formal old line post-secondary education.

The principal of the Central School reports a need for inexpensive equipment for expanding the work in motivating the reading and social sciences by means of things which may be used or observed. The cost would be much less than has been expended for books, in view of the fact that the wise policy of the School Board has cared for adequate expansion of the reading list. It is entirely praiseworthy for Miss McGrath to point the way to definite decrease in expenditure which at the same time can now be of great educational value.

(B) The reports from Mr. John R. Clark dealing with athletics and social sciences, call attention to the fact that in addition to the physical education program, 68 of the boys of the five highest grades are engaged in basketball. Parallel bars, and spring-board are suggested as very desirable equipment for the work in physical education. There will be another annual field day this spring. Golf, tennis, and class baseball will keep the majority of the boys in competition.

The program for the girls is well known to you.

The work in social science is motivated by visual material and this method offers extra credit for interesting and informative material, some of which has been on exhibit at the Historical Building.

The department of music recommends that attention be given to the development of appreciation. This should receive serious consideration in MacDowell's town.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

After nearly five years of experience under the centralization of Peterborough public schools, the School Board is assured that as an educational policy its advantages are unquestionable. While there are still many imperfections and not a few defects in process of correction, as an economic policy it can readily be demonstrated that it is money-saving even in dollars and cents over the old order of things when the children were corralled in the several districts, east, west, north, and south. Its management as a system demands, however, executive and professional supervision of a superior type and constant attention to the mechanics of its operation in order to insure success, educationally and financially. Every system that is moving on progressively toward definite objectives acquires of itself a certain amount of momentum that will carry it over temporary crises and obstacles without lasting harm to its existing purpose. In fact this is one great test of its efficiency. And it is the reason why at this time the Board feels that it can safely anticipate educational success for the coming year with a possible reduction in financial resources.

There is no new outstanding feature or venture for the current year in the entire program throughout the grades or within the High School. There is, however, a persistent determination that every subject shall be taught a little better and that every course of study shall be a little richer as accomplishment and standards advance. The teaching staff is adequate in numbers, and barring the fact that more individual work of a remedial type might be done in grades VII and VIII with additional service, it is safe to say that the entire personnel deserves commendation for sincere interest, painstaking effort, and generous response to the numerous demands of a well ordered educational program. And in the three school buildings never has the general morale been better.

On page 112 are listed the present staff, salary rate, and experience. Parents especially are invited to read the schedule with consideration.

The two departments of Manual Arts and Household Arts will of necessity with a reduced budget remain at about the same standard as of last year. Progressive grade work and college preparatory standards in other subjects cannot be sacrificed for any enrichment in these departments.

The outstanding development possible during the year is the enrichment of the Science courses and their organization as a departmental subject from Grade VII through the High School. As a result they are placed for the first time under one instructor especially well trained and with rather unusual opportunities. And hence some new equipment has been added much to the benefit of the boys and girls, and natural science is becoming a vital, animating interest instead of an incomprehensible task.

As time goes on there bid fair to exist always two debatable subjects: transportation and athletics; the one on account of its seeming expense, and the other on account of its absorbing interest within the school-body and its questioned reaction.

The Board welcomes discussion and investigation of both. Transportation is a business proposition purely, and computation shows that any return to old conditions with outside schools would cost more money to say nothing of the impossibility of equalizing educational advantages for all children. Under present economic changes, it would seem that next year's estimate of $7,800.00 should become a reality.

Interest in athletics is largely a matter of public sentiment and patronage. As a school interest it must, have public financial support, and when the citizens desire it no longer they must refuse to support it. Up to date the Board has endeavored to insist that a high morale be maintained, both as a recognized sport and as an educational asset in scholarship requirements. Participation is not compulsory and physical education is now equalized for both boys and girls throughout the school system under two trained instructors.

In conclusion careful perusal of the budget is invited. A total reduction of $4,359.00 from last year's figure is contemplated. At once the question arises, How can the present efficiency of the teaching staff be maintained? Certain explainable natural conditions operate in this regard as the failure of teachers to return on their own decision and consequent replacement at a different figure. No radical reduction of salaries is in view.

Finally, the School Board solicits of the citizens their investigation and advice, and extends to every one gratitude for all co-operation and support.

REPORT OF THE RED CROSS PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF PETERBOROUGH, N. H.:

Throughout the school year all pupils in the public schools have been under constant observation. Regular medical examinations have been made from time to time as conditions demanded under the direction of Dr. Foster.

For personal use and school service, every child is registered on a New Hampshire State Health Card. All defects are noted, and special attention is given to making as many corrections as possible. For this purpose, clinics began in February, 1931, and are still being carried on at intervals for eyes, teeth and tonsils.

Since the last report, 35 cases of defective vision have been corrected by Dr. Ralph E. Eaves, fewer cases being discovered this year than last. For the first time dental clinics were arranged with Dr. Kyes and Dr. Wilkins. 27 cases were treated. At Peterborough Hospital, tonsil clinics were held in June and November with nine corrections obtained.

Last March the hearing of all pupils was tested by Miss Louise Sexton, Supervisor of Sight and Hearing Conservation. About twenty cases of defective hearing were found, and some attempts have been made so far as possible for correction.

Last spring under Dr. Kerr's supervision the usual clinic was held, and expert examinations made of 63 cases. In June the regular Pre-School clinic under the State Department of Infancy, Maternity, and Child Hygiene was held, and 28 cases were examined by local physicians.

Visits are made to all schools regularly, frequent individual examinations given, and hardly a day passes without home consultations with parents.

(Signed) RUTH T. PEARSON (MRS.) R. N.

PETERBOROUGH HYMNA. D. 1620

God our Father!
    Glory, Lord, to Thee!
Before whose voice
    Is mute the thund'ring sea!
Through wind and foam
    Thou lead'st us home—
To Thee be glory through eternity.

Lord, hunger and cold are nigh!
Lord, not for ourselves we cry—
Let not our children die!
Silence your loud alarms
God is our shield from harms—
He will make strong our arms.
Christ, who hath calmed the wave,
Christ will uphold the brave.

Christ, our Saviour!
    Father of our Faith!
To Thee we bring faint hearts and failing breath,
    Be Thou our Guide!
    With Thee we bide,
To love, to labor, and to hope till death!

EDWARD MACDOWELL
